What to do next

1. Confirm the company's current status with the administrator before engaging. ASIC records it as in external administration since 24 July 2026.
2. Ask for the outcome of Federal Court matter QUD123/2026, filed by the Deputy Commissioner of Taxation on 1 July 2026.
3. Ask how the adjudicated amount of $41,750 owed to Sample Supplies Pty Ltd was paid.
4. Self-Certification 2 allows contracts up to $800,000. Confirm this package fits within that.

Disclaimer

1. TradesField Pty Ltd (TradesField) produces this report by compiling and analysing information drawn from public registers and other third-party sources concerning businesses and, where relevant, individuals connected with them (Sourced Information). This report, and any TradesField Rating included in it, is provided for your own commercial assessment of the subject named in it. It is not legal, financial or other professional advice, is not a substitute for obtaining that advice, and must not be treated as the sole basis for a decision to engage, contract with, tender to, or continue working with the subject.
2. This report is prepared for the named recipient's own commercial use in assessing the subject, and must not be used to make a lending, credit-provision or investment decision. This report is not a credit report, and TradesField is not a credit reporting body under Part IIIA of the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth). Any Rating included in this report is not a credit score, must not be treated as one, and must not be used to make a decision about consumer credit. Where the subject is a sole trader or an individual, this report concerns their business activity only; it is not an assessment of their personal creditworthiness, and any personal information about a director, partner or nominee appears only where it is attached to a business licence, registration or a recorded matter. Details of how we handle personal information are set out in our Privacy Policy at https://www.tradesfield.com/privacy.
3. Because this report concerns commercial matters rather than an individual's consumer credit, Part IIIA of the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) does not govern it. We instead handle any personal information in this report under the Australian Privacy Principles, including by taking reasonable steps to ensure it is accurate, up to date, complete and relevant for the purpose we use or disclose it, and by correcting it where we are satisfied it is inaccurate, out of date, incomplete, irrelevant or misleading, in the manner described in clause 21.
4. This report is a record of what is publicly documented about the subject. It is not an inspection or assessment of the subject's workmanship, technical competence, or the standard of any work carried out, and must not be relied on for that purpose.
5. Where this report includes a TradesField Rating, the Rating is a score out of 100 grouped into a letter grade from A to E, stating where the subject stands against the public record, formed only from the Sourced Information described in this report and the categories of matter it covers. A grade closer to A, and a higher score within a grade, is stronger. The Rating is a statement about what the registers we searched returned, not a prediction about the subject's future performance or the outcome of any particular project; it is not, and must not be treated as, a prediction that the subject will or will not become insolvent, default, or fail to perform, and we give no assurance about its statistical or numerical accuracy. The Rating reflects only the Sourced Information described in this report; a register that was not searched cannot contribute to it, and it cannot and does not account for anything outside that Sourced Information, such as the subject's actual financial position, project record, or matters that have occurred but are not yet publicly recorded. The Rating also depends on that Sourced Information having been correctly identified and classified; see clause 12 for the limits that apply to that process. As noted in clause 2, the Rating is not a credit score.
6. Records in this report are matched to the named subject using the best identifiers available for each source, typically a verified ABN or ACN, and otherwise the subject's name. We make reasonable efforts to match records correctly, but we do not warrant that every match is correct, and we are not liable for any error in matching a record to the subject. A match based on name alone is not confirmed against a unique identifier, and a matter attributed this way may in fact concern a different, related, or similarly named entity. You should check the primary source referenced for any matter before relying on it in a decision about the subject.
7. This report reflects only the registers listed in this report, each shown with the date its data is current to: sources we search live for a report are marked "checked" as at that date, and sources we hold as a periodically-refreshed dataset are marked "current to" the date we last synchronised them. Coverage differs materially between sources and between states and territories: construction licensing data held by Queensland's regulator (QBCC) is considerably more complete than the equivalent data available in New South Wales and Victoria, and some jurisdictions have no equivalent public register at all. A category showing no result means nothing matching the subject was found on the registers actually searched, as at the date shown for each; it is not a statement that the subject's record is clear, and this applies in particular to home building compensation and statutory insurance claims, which are not comprehensively held on the licensing registers this report draws on.
8. Sourced Information reflects the position recorded as at the date shown for each source in this report (the date it was checked or the date its data is current to) and may have changed since, including in the interval between a dataset's last synchronisation and the generation of this report. This report states what was on the record as at those dates, not the subject's current legal position; for example, a wind-up application is not a wind-up order, and a past period of external administration does not mean the subject is currently under external administration.
9. Court and tribunal sources have their own recording limits which this report inherits. Depending on the court or tribunal: matters resolved without a hearing (such as default judgments) may not be captured; only the first-named applicant and respondent or defendant may be recorded; parties described as "& Anor", "& Ors" or similar may not be individually captured; parties joined after the initial filing may not appear; and names subject to suppression or non-publication orders will not appear.

SAMPLE REPORT

10. Company and insolvency information in this report is drawn from ASIC's registers, which ASIC itself compiles largely from filings and notices lodged by third parties. ASIC does not check that information for correctness before it is published, offers no assurance about how current, complete or dependable it is, and is not responsible if it turns out to be wrong. The same limits apply to our use of it here.
11. Licensing, registration and disciplinary information sourced from state and territory construction regulators is reproduced as published by each register. We make reasonable efforts to present this information accurately, but we do not independently verify it, we give no warranty as to its accuracy, currency or completeness, and we are not liable for any error, omission or defect in it. Some registers do not publish a genuine licence expiry date; where that is the case, any date shown against a licence reflects a renewal period only, and the licence may remain current beyond it.
12. Some elements of this report, including the classification of matters, matching of parties to the subject, and mapping of trade or licence categories, are produced with the help of automated or AI-assisted processing. We take reasonable care in that process, but it can make mistakes: a matter that is present on a register we searched, as at the date we searched it, may still be missed, misclassified, or not reflected in this report or in a Rating. This clause does not affect the general limitations of liability, or the Consumer Guarantee carve-out, set out in clauses 15 to 20.
13. We give no assurance that the information in this report will meet your particular purposes or requirements, whatever those may be.
14. Where this report contains links to third-party websites, those sites are owned and run by others, and TradesField takes no responsibility for them or their content.
15. To the extent the law allows, we are not liable to you or anyone else, whether in contract, tort, or otherwise, for any adverse outcome connected with our providing (or failing to provide), or your using, accessing or relying on, this report or the Sourced Information in it, including for direct or indirect loss, lost profits or anticipated savings, or any other commercial or economic loss. This includes loss connected with any error or omission in the Sourced Information or this report. Where we become aware of an inaccuracy, we will endeavour to correct it, in line with clause 21.
16. Nothing in this disclaimer takes away any guarantee, right or remedy you have under the Australian Consumer Law (Schedule 2 to the Competition and Consumer Act 2010 (Cth)), or any other law, that cannot lawfully be limited or excluded. We accept liability only where the law requires us to, and only to that extent.
17. Subject to clause 16 above and clause 6 of our standard Terms and Conditions (https://www.tradesfield.com/terms), and to the extent the law allows: we make no warranty as to the fitness of the Sourced Information or this report for any particular purpose; and we are not liable to you for indirect or consequential loss of any kind (including lost revenue, lost profits, lost anticipated savings, or any other economic or commercial loss) or for lost or corrupted data, however that liability might arise, in connection with the Sourced Information or this report.
18. Where you have caused or contributed to any loss or damage you claim against us, our liability to you is reduced accordingly, regardless of how that liability arises.
19. Beyond what is set out above, and to the fullest extent the law allows, all other warranties, whether express, implied, or arising by statute, are excluded.
20. Where a warranty or guarantee cannot lawfully be excluded, our liability, and that of our employees and agents, for breaching it is limited, at our choice, to one of the following: supplying the relevant report or service again; correcting it; covering the cost of having it supplied again or corrected; or refunding the fees you paid for it.
21. If you believe a matter recorded in this report, or a Rating, is wrong or out of date, follow the steps under If a record is wrong in Scope and corrections on page 5.
22. TradesField operates independently of ASIC, QBCC, NSW Fair Trading, the Victorian Building and Plumbing Commission, and the courts and tribunals referred to in this report; we are not affiliated with, and none of them endorses, TradesField or any Rating we produce. This report is for your own use in assessing the named subject; you must not pass it on outside your organisation or its advisers, publish it, or use it for any purpose the law doesn't allow.
23. If we or our employees or agents incur any loss, cost or expense (including full legal costs on an indemnity basis) because of your use of this report or the Sourced Information in it, or because you've breached our Terms and Conditions (https://www.tradesfield.com/terms) or Privacy Policy (https://www.tradesfield.com/privacy), you agree to cover us for it.
